WARREN DIRECTS

County Chapter Has Been Favored With Much Material

Final plans for the Red Cross Roll Call were being completed Wednesday, by Roll Call Chairman W. A. Warren. He called a meeting of all the Roll Call Committee workers Tuesday afternoon, and final instructions and materials for making the drive were given workers at that time.

Those who have been named on the committee to work on the Roll Call include:

Mrs. W. H. Stroud, F. E. Savage, S. H. Condron, Mrs. Tom Knighton, Miss Pearl Black, Mrs. Chas. Dowlen Mrs. T. M. Moore, Mrs. Allen Farlow, Mrs. Ray McReynolds, Mrs. Burt Newlin, Mrs. J. W. Shook, Alfred Bellah, John Jackson, C. H. Jarrett, Bob Hunt, Mrs. R. B. Davis, Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. Madison Daugherty, Mrs. F. F. Ferrell.

Randall county has been paid more in return from the American Red Cross during the past year than the amount sent to the National Headquarters by the Randall County Chapter. These facts are called to the attention of the citizens by Red Cross Chapter leaders in preparation for the Annual Roll Call campaign to be held between November 11 and 30— Armistice to Thanksgiving.

From memberships paid in last November the records of Grady Oldham, treasurer for local chapter, show that $53.50 was sent to the National Headquarters from last year's roll call. An additional $50.00 was raised locally in response to the Red Cross appeal for aid in the Texas hurricane district. This went direct to the distressed district, through the channels of the Red Cross.

Figures given by C. H. Jarrett, former chairman of the Randall County Red Cross Chapter, show this county received 140 barrels or 560 48-pound sacks of flour distributed through the Red Cross. Computed on the basis of 75 cents per sack, the value received in flour alone was over $400.00.

Besides the flour, 2647 yards of piece goods and 1512 garments were received by the local chapter, according to the figures furnished by Mrs. T. C. Thompson, chairman of the Red Cross committee in charge of the distribution of the clothing and goods sent to this chapter.

Computing the value of the piece goods on the basis of 5 cents per yard the value received was more than $130.00. The ready made garments received, computed at

CANYON CLOSES UP SATURDAY FOR ARMISTICE DAY

30 More Trucks Needed on Road

Progress on Road Being Held Up by Lack of Trucks

"We need 30 trucks at once for the highway work east of Canyon," was the statement of E. H. Gohmert, resident engineer Tuesday evening.

Mr. Gohmert reports splendid progress on the highway during the past week in spite of the continued bad weather, but hopes to have a sufficient number of trucks to make greater progress during the coming week.

Practically all of the fence has been moved back all the way to the Palo Duro State Park, and the road bed is ready for work.

Mr. Gohmert hopes that he will be able to get enough trucks to run both the gravel pit east of Canyon, and the other at the Marshall place. But both cannot be run unless more trucks are received.

A large number of Amarillo R. F. C. men have been working on this highway the past week, and it may be necessary to bring in trucks from Amarillo if they are not available in Randall county.

Rotarians to Have Sons for Luncheon on Next Tuesday

Father and Son day will be observed next Tuesday by the Canyon Rotary Club. A special program is being prepared for the occasion by Doug Shirley.

War songs were revived for the luncheon this week, in memory of Armistice Day on next Saturday.

Irby Carruth called attendtion to the Hereford-Canyon football game on Friday afternoon, urging a full attendance of Canyon people to back the Eagles. The game will be played at Buffalo Field at 3:00 o'clock.

A letter from the Chicago headquarters of Rotary International highly praised the local club, as reflected in the recent report of Governor O. B. Sellers.

Harris Cook, chairman of the Program Committee, explained the purpose of the programs for the coming few weeks, and the plan that had been devised to coordinating the programs of the club.

Visitors present Tuesday were H. T. Landers, W. W. Kelley, H. B. Lambeth, H. T. Neeley, N. S. Griggs, Phil Purdum of Amarillo; Robt. W. Foster of Canyon.

EX-STUDENT DIES

News was received in Canyon Tuesday of the death of Miss Polly Warren of Dalhart. Miss Warren was an outstanding student during the 1932-33 session of the College, and had many friends in town.

Rev. C. W. Foote Closes Work For Conference Year

Rev. C. W. Foote, pastor of the local Methodist church, left yesterday for Clarendon to attend the annual Northwest Texas Conference which will be in session until Sunday night. In closing the year's work, Rev. Foote expressed appreciation of the co-operation of the people of the local church and the people of Canyon. In spite of the hard conditions which have confronted this section, Rev. Foote will be able to make a good report on the year's work. This is the end of his first year's work in Canyon.

The presiding bishop will read the assignments of pastors for the coming year at the close of the Sunday night service.

Licenses on Farm and Ranch Trucks Will Be Reduced

Trucks which are used exclusively by farmers and ranchmen to haul their products from their farms and ranches to market will pay one-half of the license fees collected in the past. Licenses will not be issued at this rate for the balance of 1933, states Tax Collector R. N. Barnett, but the new rate will become effective on the new license plates sold to go on the trucks the first of January.

New automobile tags for 1934 may be secured after the first of December, but the date for payment has been extended until January 31st so that car owners may pay their auto licenses any time during January at the same time they usually pay their property taxes.

BUSINESS MEN WILL TAKE OFF SATURDAY HERE

No General Program Is Planned By Palo Duro Post

SPONSOR GAME

Legion Members to Have Breakfast at the Hall

Canyon business houses will be closed Saturday for the observation of Armistice Day.

A meeting of business men Monday noon was called at which time the decision was reached to close for the day. More of the business houses in the Panhandle have decided upon a like course.

The American Legion will not sponsor a program open to the public in Canyon this year. A breakfast for Legion members and members of the Auxiliary will be held Saturday morning at 7:00 o'clock at the Legion Hall. This will be the only program for ex-service men to be held in the city.

A large delegation of ex-service men is expected to go to Amarillo where a large celebration and parade is being planned.

The Buffalo Band and Buffalo football team will participate in the parade at Amarillo.

The ex-service men are sponsoring the Buffalo-Cadet football game to be played in Amarillo at Butler Field Saturday afternoon. The Amarillo Legion Post is making an effort to bring out a large crowd for this game. Owing to the fact that all business houses in Canyon will be closed for the day, it is expected that Canyon will contribute a large part of the crowd to attend the game.

Opening of Road In Canyon Delayed

Break Down in the Steam Shovel Delays Road Opening

Break down in the steam shovel at the Palo Duro Park will delay the completion of the road into the canyon at least two weeks. Superintendent S. O. Miller planned to have the road completed and open for traffic by Saturday, hoping that Armistice Day could be celebrated by allowing cars to drive to the bottom of the Palo Duro.

Repairs were ordered for the shovel, but this will likely require a week. There remains practically one more week's work before the road will be ready for use.

Mr. Miller expressed pleasure in the progress which has been made at the Park, but was disappointed that the road will not be completed by the end of this week.

A large amount of work is yet to be done in finishing the road after it is ready for traffic. At the present time there are no funds available for hard surfacing, and something of this nature must be provided for or heavy maintenance charges will be met following big rains. Rock is being used wherever possible to hold the grade from washing, but a topping of some kind must eventually be provided.

A celebration is being planned for the completion of the road into the Palo Duro. It is expected hundreds of people will desire to drive to the bottom of the canyon at the first possible minute.

Annual Banquet of Chamber Commerce Set for Nov. 27th

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday set the date for the annual banquet of the organization for Monday, Nov. 27. A committee composed of Fred E. Wortham, J. W. Kleinschmidt, Carl Laughery, J. Roy Moses and Dr. M. L. Saddoris was appointed to make arrangements for the banquet.

Reports will be made by the retiring officers, and new directors will be named for the coming year.

Plans for Christmas are being made through the Trade Extension Committee, W. A. Warren, chairman, and it is hoped to have announcements next week as to the date for a co-operative movement for Christmas buying.

College Faculty to Visit Schools of Panhandle Section

Members of the College faculty will visit public schools of the region as a part of their professional improvement program for the coming year, according to a decision reached in the regular faculty meeting Tuesday night.

These trips will be made at each member's personal expense and the classes visited will be those in the field in which each works on the campus. It is expected that at least seventy visits will be made during the long session.

While off the campus the visitors will also meet county superintendents, school boards, prospective teachers, and service and study clubs.

This whole arrangement has been made to enable the college to know the schools of the region.

Allotment Figures Are Expected Here For Wheat Farmers

Members of the Wheat Allotment committee have been in session all week re-checking figures in an effort to reduce the acreage allowable to the amount set by the government. It is found that this is impossible and request has been made to increase the allotment for the county. However, the committee does not expect that the total allowable will be sufficiently large to care for the figures as submitted by the farmers.

Whenever the definite allotment is received, the committee will then be in position to make such changes as necessary. It is likely that a uniform percentage reduction for the entire county will be necessary.

Contracts are being made and will be ready to mail to farmers just as soon as the allotment total has been received. The contracts must be signed by December 1st.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch is at College Station this week where additional information will be given the county agents.

100 WORKMEN ARE RUSHING 13 BUILDINGS

Work Continues Saturday and Sunday at Palo Duro

EARLY COMPLETION

Major Watson Is Highly Pleased With the Progress

To move all of the C. C. C. men at Palo Duro State Park into the shelter of the nine new barracks is the objective of 110 carpenters who are working at the park site east of Canyon.

Seven barracks and three officers' quarters were under roof by Tuesday night, and the foundations in for two more barracks. Men who wished to move their cots into the new barracks were allowed to do so last night.

866 window frames for the barracks were expected today, together with a car load of stoves, which means that before the end of this week, the men at the camp will be comfortably housed.

Major J. A. Watson expressed his very great appreciation Tuesday of the rapid progress made by the carpenters. More than 60 of the 110 men employed were from Canyon. Major Watson received special permit from Fort Sill for the carpenters to work Saturday and Sunday owing to the prevailing cold weather. As a result, the barracks will be completed and occupied several days before the scheduled time.

"The barracks will be completed next week, if all of the material is received," stated E. W. Cabe, Tuesday night. Mr. Cabe, C. Shuman and George Small are the three foremen on the construction. Owing to the cold weather more men were employed than was contemplated at the start of the construction, and as a result more than 40 Amarillo carpenters were put to work on the project. The addition of these men has called for material much faster than was contemplated. The windows, being made in Amarillo, are late in arriving, but will be put in the building as soon as received.

The recreation hall, located north of Company 1828, is well under way, which will give additional comfort and pleasure to the men in the camp.

Tuesday was the first pay day for the carpenters. The carpenters received 60c per hour and the helpers received 40c per hour. This price was agreed to by Randall county workmen, although outside carpenters attempted to boost the price.

No orders have been received as to the possibilities of barracks for the fourth company, which was authorized several weeks ago. Neither have orders been received as to the company at the Palisades, which was ordered to remain until the first of December. The three companies now at the Palo Duro were not recruited up to full strength, and possibly by the time the barracks are completed word will be received as to the future of this project.

The cold weather and rain over

TIME FOR ANOTHER ARMISTICE

Cold Weather Hits After Rains Come

More Rain Followed by Freeze and a Light Snow

The Panhandle shivered over the week end, with the first touch of real winter. 28 degrees above zero was registered, but following the very warm weather of last week, this felt almost like a touch of zero weather.

Following the .75 of an inch rain Wednesday afternoon and night, mist with occasional showers continued through Sunday. Moisture amounting to .19 of an inch was added during those days. The continued cloudy weather was worth a great deal to the wheat, as it protected the moisture which had fallen, every drop going into the ground. The rainfall was far from uniform over the county, the northeast section receiving only about a quarter inch, while other sections of the county received more than an inch.

A light snow accompanied the showers of Sunday, accompanied by a sharp north wind.

The sky cleared Monday, with prediction that open weather will follow during the balance of the week.

Buffaloes To Play Saturday in Amarillo

N. M. M. I. Cadets of Roswell Will Bring Good Team

The Buffaloes will play Saturday's game at Amarillo, meeting the New Mexico Military Institute of Roswell. The game is being sponsored by the American Legion of Amarillo, and it is indicated that the crowd will be the largest that has seen the Buffs in action this year.

Coach Al Baggett is working his team hard this week in preparation for Saturday's game. The Soldiers will bring a well balanced team, which has been giving a good account in all the games this year.

Added interest to the game is the fact that Saturday will be "trip day" for the Institute. 500 students are planning to accompany the team on this one trip of the season. Reunions are being planned in Amarillo for exes of the Institute, and this will bring out men from all over the Plains who have attened this school.

An effort is being made to take a large delegation of W. T. students to Amarillo for the game. The Buffalo Band will be at the game, as well as in the Legion parade in Amarillo in the morning.

AFTER REPEAL, WHAT?

It did not take much of a prophet to foretell months ago that repeal of the 18th amendment would soon be a fact. The surprising fact, however, was the rapidity and regularity in which state after state voted in favor of repeal until the necessary 36 states had voted in this manner. Ardent wets said "repeal by Christmas;" and missed the mark a full month and one-half.

But repeal is now a matter of fact, with the election in six states on Tuesday of this week.

Now will come the actual battle of what is going to happen after repeal becomes effective.

In starting the campaign, the wets opposed the saloon, or made such a campaign promise. Now that saloons have opened all over the country for the sale of 3.2% beer, there will be a demand for the addition of hard liquor. This will be accomplished in wet states.

The problem in Texas will confront the next session of the legislature. A Baptist convention announced Sunday a movement to elect a dry legislature in order to keep Texas dry.

Hitherto dry territory is voting in favor of legalized beer.

Unless the drys put up a decided fight, it would not be surprising to see Texas repeal its state constitutional prohibition amendment.

The wets are in the saddle, and are riding hard toward complete repeal.

E. I. Hill, editor of the Tahoka News and former district attorney in the Sweetwater district, calls attention to the fact that elections have been held in Plainview and Brownfield legalizing beer in a single precinct after the county as a whole voted dry. Mr. Hill terms this in opposition to the law and all court decisions on the question. This will interest Randall county people owing to the fact that a movement is under way to call an election in the north precinct of this county to legalize beer. The attorney general has recently ruled that a precinct may not vote on the question so long as the county as a whole votes dry.

As the liquor problem now stands, it is largely in the hands of the wets. If they have a plan which will effectively regulate liquor in dry territories, they may hold control for a long time. If their policy is to turn the nation loose, their reign may be short.

The liquor problem is not yet settled.

Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman has definitely announced as a candidate for attorney general. He expects Attorney General Jimmie Allred to be a candidate for Governor. Woodward is well known over the state as a lawyer, and gained considerable prominence as a member of the senate. His consistent fight for Governor Sterling against Mrs. Ferguson brought him considerable recognition. Some of this effort will be of use to him, and some will not. His announcement was the first to come for one of the major offices of the state, and therefore attracted more attention than it might have a little later. At least, it is the forewarning that Texas will soon be engaged in another hot political fight with the bi-annual election to engage the minds of the people.

Every citizen of Randall county should give something to the Red Cross this year. In larger cities, the Community Chest drives are on. In Canyon and Randall county, funds collected for the Red Cross should take care of most of the charity cases through this winter. The National Red Cross has given abundantly to the needy of Randall county. Much money has come to Randall county during the past year through other governmental agencies. There will be great need for charity funds this winter—greater than in years past. The national government demands that every community do its part to take care of its own people first, and then call upon it for additional help. When the solicitors call, give liberally. There is need for a most hearty response to the Red Cross this year.

Governors in the middle west met last week and proposed a program of farm relief. The program did not suit President Roosevelt who promptly vetoed the proposal. There is one thing sure and certain about Roosevelt. He has a carefully mapped program for every undertaking, and he is unafraid of the results when he sets out to accomplish his program. That is something new in a national administration since the days of Woodrow Wilson.

President Roosevelt is buying gold in huge quantities. We have carefully read all of the financial critics, no two of whom agree as to the ultimate results. The aim, according to the President, is to cheapen the dollar and raise prices. Many people profess to know just how all of this will take place, and just what each movement means. The average man, including your writer, sits idly by agap with the mystery of the whole transaction.

Crime in the United States is said to be costing 13 billions of dollars annually. That is three billion dollars more than all of the European nations owe us. America has been doing lots of complaining because Europe did not pay us their honest debts, but we do not complain of this huge debt caused by crime, and we take too little interest in the movements started to eventually curb crime.

Just 15 short years since the world was made safe for Democracy. If Woodrow Wilson could view the world today, with practical dictatorship in every leading nation, and extreme confusion on all political questions he would regret having uttered those famous words. At the time, the phrase whipped America into action for the world war. Now we wonder about this thing called democracy.

Canyon's Chamber of Commerce will have its annual banquet on Nov. 27th, at which time new officers will be elected. Every member of the Chamber of Commerce should be present and hear the report of the officers. Many things have taken place in Canyon the past year, all of which will make interesting history for review.

Hat Styles Go Machine Age

NEW HEADGEAR APES ZEPP, AUTO, SHIP, PLANE, WITH STREAMLINE EFFECT

BY HARRIET

STREAMLINE hats are the latest contribution to the winter mode. A New York designer recently showed a whole line of smart headgear inspired by our modern machinery.

The teardrop lines of automobiles, airplanes, ocean liners, and high-speed busses gave her the idea for a collection of hats. For instance, there is a sports hat that clings to the head and suggests speed by its uplifted metal wing right at the back of the crown.

An airplane hat, following the teardrop line, has a tiny little plane poised on its crown.

Still another was inspired by an ocean liner and it has a smooth, speedy-looking brim and a crown trimmed with miniature portholes.

The zeppelin model has the general shape of a giant dirigible. Silver cords, which begin at the front, merge at the back to carry out the streamline idea.

A number of veils are used with these new streamline numbers. Some of the veils, as in the case of the ocean liner model, are at the back, suggesting turbulent waves in the wake of a speedy ship.

We have had clothes inspired by King Tut, the Empire State Building and, more recently, by Mae West. But the idea of adapting industrial designs for our headgear really is something entirely different.

• • •

A SPORTS hat of brown cameo felt is perfect for football games and street wear. The gold cord which goes around the crown suggests cables and the upstanding wing surely is a symbol of speed.

The zeppelin hat—of black felt, with silver cords converging at the rear for streamline effect.

The ocean liner model—Silver "portholes" and a veil in the back accent the nautical feature.

The airplane hat—of black felt, with a metal ornament suggesting the fuselage of a plane.

It would be particularly nice with a brown corduroy sports coat and a gay plaid ascot tie.

Another hat is likewise an interesting streamline model. It is of black felt, smooth and durable, and has a diminutive airplane poised on the back of the crown.

Wear it with your winter street coat or, better yet, with an afternoon coat laden with furs.

Unmistakably patterned after the modern dirigibles is another hat of black felt. Silver cords start at the front of the high crown and converge to the teardrop point, leaving the very end of the hat without any trimming.

The front is trimmed with two enormous silver buttons which resemble the tops of bolts used in today's machinery.

The fourth hat is the ocean liner model with silver portholes adorning its crown. The veil swoops down around the back of the brim, which turns up in the back and slants downward over the right eye.

Charlotte Henry, above, former Brooklyn girl who was picked from among 7000 girls to play the role of "Alice" in a forthcoming film production of "Alice in Wonderland," is busy in Hollywood these days learning her lines. Miss Henry was selected for the part because of her resemblance to the original drawings of Lewis Carroll's immortal character.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. SERMON SUN. CLOSES WESLEY ANNUAL MEET

Three Day Session Is Pronounced Big Success

INTEREST SHOWN

Ray McEntire Is Elected Vice-Pres. For 1933-34

Closing Sunday morning with a powerful sermon by Boyd M. McCowan, member of the College Division of the General Board of Christian Education, of Nashville, Tenn., the Wesley Foundation Conference was pronounced a marked success by those who had charge of the three-day session here Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. McCowan, who was chosen as the conference leader, spoke Sunday morning in place of Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist University, who was unable to appear. The subject of his address was "The Power of An Integrated Life."

Dr. Hill Speaks

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers College, gave the address of welcome at the opening banquet held Saturday evening in the dining hall of the First Methodist church of Canyon. "We are more than glad to welcome all delegations that come with the idea of moral and spiritual uplift in mind," said Dr. Hill, "for the world is hungering for the spiritual things of life."

Dan Dodson, instructor at McMurray College, and president of the Conference, was toastmaster for the evening. The keynote address was given by Rev. S. L. Rogers of Goodwell, Oklahoma. Following the banquet a Bible drama, "The Lost People," was given by speech students of the West Texas State Teachers College, under the student direction of Mrs. Raymond Harrah.

Appear in Chapel

Discussion groups were opened Saturday morning with Rev. J. O. Haynes, pastor of the First Methodist church of Lubbock, giving the principal address at 9:30 in the administration building auditorium of the College. The subject of Rev. Haynes' address was "Religion as a Personal Experience." The study groups were held in the auditorium until the noon hour when the delegates were served luncheon at the College cafeteria, and later made a trip through the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum on the College campus.

Elect Officers

At the election of officers held Saturday afternoon, Noel Bryant, of McMurray College, was chosen president for the ensuing year. Ray McEntire, of the West Texas State Teachers College, was elected vice-president with Miss Eileen Booker, of Texas Technological College, as secretary and W. E. Trice, of Amarillo College, as Superintendent of Publicity. The conference next year will be held on the McMurray College campus at Abilene from the 19th to the 21st of October.

The delegation from Panhandle A. & M. was in charge of the discussion groups Saturday morning; Texas Technological students conducted the afternoon meetings and the McMurray students were in charge of Sunday morning activities.

Prof. Condron Speaks

Outstanding among the Sunday morning program was the open forum conducted by Prof. S. H. Condron, head of the department of Government and Economics at W. T., on "The Larger Interests of Students as To Race Relations and International problems."

Another conference speaker who is well known in this section of the country was Rev. E. Gaston Foote, of Amarillo, who spoke Saturday evening on "The Church as a Force in the Well Integrated Life."

A picnic was held Saturday evening at the Wesley Cabin in the Methodist Encampment grounds in the Palo Duro canyon.

Delegates present included students from McMurray College, Texas Technological College, Panhandle A. & M., Wayland Junior College, Amarillo College, the West Texas State Teachers College, and Clarendon Junior College.

To the women of the Canyon Methodist church for furnishing assistance at the opening of their homes to the delegates;

To the clever "cowboy" banquet arranged by the committee in charge of Miss Helen Johnson and other Home Economics majors;

To Misses Marie and Royce Park, the T-Anchor Cowboys, and the organists for music at the banquet.

To Ray McEntire and Miss Nellie Freeman for efficient management of registration and finances.

To Dr. Angie Debo and her assistants who so graciously opened the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum for the Conference.

To the Saturday afternoon activities and evening meal in charge of Miss Ruth Lowes and her committee.

Your Correspondent Takes His Typewriter in Hand to Jump the Gun on the 1933 All-America Team Guessing Season

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE All-America-Team-Guessing fever epidemic is not due for some time yet, but your correspondent suddenly has been taken down with a rush of prognostications to the head And so we're going to offer for your approval—or sneers—the lads we think most likely to make the All America grade this season

• • •

FOR ends, how about Ford Palmer of Southern California and Joe "Muggsy" Skladany of Pitt? "Muggsy" was All-America in 1932, and one thing seems to favor an encore Jock Sutherland's team promises to go great guns again this year; and with Mike Sebastian back there flinging passes, "Muggsy" will have plenty of chance to strut his stuff. We think he'll outdo himself this year.

Ford Palmer's selection as captain of Howard Jones' 1933 squad provides him with the All-America incentive. He'll be setting an example for the other U. S. C. lads, and if his work with this topnotch team stands out, his place on the A. A. roster seems assured.

They say a football team is just as strong as its tackles. If that's the case, Duke U. and Louisiana State should be plenty good this year. In that youthful giant, Freddie Crawford, Duke has a gridiron prodigy. At least Duke's coach, Wallace Wade, has remarked that Freddie was the best tackle he ever handled He is exceptional All-America material; so is Tackle Jack Torrance of Louisiana State. The latter, a lad of phenomenal stature—six feet five inches tall, weighing 240 pounds—carries his bulk lightly as he gallops down the field.

He's as good on the gridiron as he is at track meets; and Torrance, as you may know, is co-holder of the world's shotput record.

• • •

BILL CORBUS of Stanford and Aaron Rosenberg of Southern California are our guesses for the guard berths on the All-America. Bill was All-America timber last year, and should be the big light in "Tiny" Thornhill's galaxy this season. The sterling work of his brother linemen, Tay Brown and Ernie Smith, last year, overshadowed "Rosy's" deeds, but with his naturally improved technique this year, he should stick out like a sore thumb.

The center post goes to Chuck Bernard of Michigan. Kipke teams always must have a good line because of the coach's policy of kicking and waiting for the breaks. Since the center of the line bears the brunt in this style of play, Chuck's work this year should bring him national recognition.

Art Kreuger of Marquette is another center who deserves mention. With a tougher Marquette schedule, Art probably would outshine even Bernard.

The chap who deserves a lot of credit for the Colgate record of last year is our best for the A. A. quarterback berth this year He is Charley Soleau, who directed the 1932 undefeated, unscored-on Colgate squad. If Charley repeats his good work this season, he should get the call over Homer Griffith of U. S. C.

TWENTY or 30 outstanding candidates for the halfback post make this selection a tough chore. But, letting the chips fall where they may, we'll put the finger on Beattie Feathers of Tennessee and Frank Froschauer of Illinois.

Feathers, who can pass, kick and run with the best of them, rambled all over the southern gridirons last season. And Froschauer, an Illinois junior, will be out there trying to live up to the "1933 Red Grange" title predicted for him by his public.

Purdue, we venture, again will hold down the fullback post on the All-America eleven. In Fred Hecker, the Boilermakers have a ramin' fool who can make holes in a line where they ain't. And we think he'll get the nod from most of the All-America team pickers.

Harvesters Drop To W. T. Frosh

Pampa Runs In First Stringers To Score

Playing uncertain ball in a misty rain and on a soft gridiron, the W. T. Freshmen defeated the Pampa Harvesters by the narrow margin of 7-6 Saturday night.

The Yearlings outplayed the Harvester reserves the first half and scored their tally on a blocked punt by Champion, guard, in the first quarter. In the last half Coach Mitchell used just enough of his regulars to run over their only tally. Mundy and Marbaugh, regulars, played most of the game.

Again the feature of the game was Phillips' punting though he got off several bad ones on the slick field. Time and again he punted the ball out of danger to prevent the Pampans from scoring.

After Dunaway, Pampa back, had returned the opening kickoff to midfield, the Harvesters were forced to kick, and gained possession when the Frosh fumbled. Pampa fumbled right back, however, and an exchange of punts followed, with the Harvesters taking possession on their 20 yard line.

Champion, Freshman guard, broke through the line and blocked Pampa's punt and chased the ball across the goal line for a touchdown. Burson converted.

Taking the ball in midfield, the Harvesters marched to the Frosh nine, featured by a 22-yard run by Nash, quarter. They were held and Phillips attempted to punt out of danger, but Pampa got possession on the 25.

Marbaugh crashed to the 15 and then passed to Heiskel on the nine. Captain Patton, end, and Hamilton, regular quarterback, were rushed into the game. On the first play, taking the ball from a short position, Hamilton slid through the left side for the touchdown.

Kicking Duel

Marbough's attempt at extra point barely got over the line of scrimmage, and with that kick went the ball game.

The fourth quarter was a kicking duel, with Pampa holding an edge, finally getting the ball on the Freshmen's 45. In a concentrated drive, Heiskel accounted for two first downs and Marbough one to reach the 15-yard line.

The Yearlings held for three downs and Marbaugh's toss was incomplete as the game ended.

The starting line-up:

Wayside Items

Quite a decided change in the weather since last week. A very heavy rain fell at Wayside Nov. 1, four and one-half inches. Other places not so much. With the rain, cooler weather, thin ice once, seemingly a light snow. Still quite cloudy.

A goodly number from Wayside attended court at Claude last week.

Leaving Tuesday morning Charlie Helms and wife, W. I. Lane and wife started from Claude Wednesday late in the afternoon; one rain had fallen when they reached the river in Palo Duro. River already rising and night had come on. Mr. Helms walked part way across. They decided they could make it. Made it all right for a while, then water killed the engine. They were forced to leave the car, and it began to settle in the quicksand and soon turned on its side. The fall is so great, the river is very swift in Palo Duro. These four unfortunate people, Helms and Lanes, waded out and walked seven miles in the dark and rain falling heavily part of the time, to M. L. McGehee's sheep ranch where they spent the remainder of the night. There was one match in the safe when they made a fire. Through the kindness of Joe Smith, who came in his wagon, they reached Wayside about 8 a. m. Thursday. The car is still in the sand but partly visible. A squad of 10 men went down Saturday afternoon and worked, using Harvey Newsom's tractor, but were unable so far to move it.

Mrs. Merle McGehee honored Mrs. Bertha Payne with a nice birthday dinner last Sunday. Guests were W. C. McGehee and family, W. I. Lane and wife, Mrs. Payne and children.

J. E. McGehee, wife and Mary Lee made a trip to Tulia with cotton Wednesday. On their return they found Happy Draw too deep to cross in truck, so they left it and proceeded to wade across. Fortunately they were near home and made it all right.

Misses Lemley and Hargen called in the Sluder home Monday afternoon. They report school progressing nicely and all well pleased with their work.

W. D. and M. L. McGehee left Saturday, returning Monday night.

Mrs. Clara McGehee visited the dentist Monday afternoon in Amarillo, and had a bad tooth extracted. Doing as well as could be expected.

Green leaves still on the trees.

No services at the church last Sabbath. Bro. Lindsey's regular appointment. Too muddy.

W. I. Lane made a trip to Amarillo Tuesday, Mrs. Lane went as far as Happy with him.

Noble Gillham and Irving Lane both have employment at a filling station at Pampa.

With no more rain will be some days before anything can be hauled from the fields.

Highland News

The farmers in this community have received little rain as yet, but are hoping for some. They are trying to complete their wheat sowing before bad weather begins.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bedenk were callers in Amarillo Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Elam and children spent Thursday evening in the Carl Fuqua home.

Mrs. Marvin Tidwell has been visiting Mrs. C. C. Kellogg in Wildorado for several days.

The Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Rogers Friday for an all day meeting. Fruit cakes were made.

Mrs. Carl Fuqua and children and Jack Cage went to the football game in Wildorado Friday.

YOU CAN'T REALLY HEAR TODAY'S BROADCASTS WITH A YESTERDAY RADIO!

The Radio of yesterday can only bring you an inadequate and very often a considerably distorted reproduction of the programs a broadcasting station puts on the air today.

The broadcasting stations have been constantly improving their transmission methods—steadily adding to their ability to reproduce the full range of the human voice and all the musical instruments.

If you still listen to modern broadcasting through a radio that is not "stepped up" to present day standards, it is as if you were listening to programs through a half-closed door.

Form-Fit Frocks Feature Fall Fashions

NEW SKIRTS IMPART HIP SLIMNESS; FANCY SHOULDER, SLEEVE, NECKLINE TREATMENT FURNISHES COLOR

BY HARRIET

FROCKS that make you look tall and slender are the right ones to choose this fall.

If you're an exceedingly tall girl, you're a very lucky one. But if you aren't, don't despair! New fashions are designed to make you look tall, anyway.

Slimness through the hips and thighs is accomplished by straight, form-fitting skirts. They leave the glory, consisting of intricate shoulder treatments, unusual sleeves and ornate necklines, to the waists of these new dresses.

It stands to reason that if your shoulders are delicately emphasized, your hips are bound to seem more slender. And that same above-the-waistline emphasis gives the impression of greater height.

* * *

A SLIMLY tailored frock that definitely shows the new mode is of brown dinde, a lovely ribbed sheer fabric.

It has a high neckline encircled by a tiny round collar of beige lacquered satin.

The armholes are wide, allowing for plenty of comfort if you wear the dress to the office and the sleeves are set into the dress with two pleats right on top of the shoulder The pleats stand up straight, looking very much like winged sleeves.

A bow of the beige satin is edged with the dress material. It slides through a loop which is placed at the junction of the ends of the round collar. Buttons of self material go right down the front of the form-fitting waist.

The skirt closely molds the hips and thighs and has an inverted pleat in front below the knees.

A little turban of the same fabric as the dress, trimmed with three bows, tops the ensemble.

A turban is flattering and is about the most practical type of hat a girl can have for everyday street wear.

A wine-colored frock that will take you right through the day in a well-groomed manner is fashioned of an uncut velvet with drawn work used in the loose bodice and on the sleeve just above the elbow.

The shoulder slopes and the sleeve treatment with the fullness around the elbow tapering to a tight wrist line are fine fashion features.

Belted at the normal waistline, the frock gracefully molds the hips and then flares just a little bit below them. A novelty metal buckle fastens the belt.

The antelope beret (same color as the frock) shades the right eye and has an amusing little quill placed high in front.

Brown dinde, a charming ribbed sheer fabric, fashions frock and turban shown at left. Stand-up pleats, a tiny round collar of beige lacquered satin and a bow of the same material add color. The wine-colored frock at right is of uncut velvet with drawn work in the loose bodice and on the sleeves.

BUFFALOES LOOSE TO RAVENS ON BUTLER FIELD, 12 TO 7

Bison Herd Shows Good Form Against St. Benedict's

Proving that they have really begun to play football, the West Texas Buffaloes held the machine-like organization from St. Benedict's College to a 12 to 7 count.

The Herd played veteran football during the last half, and though some of the breaks of the game went against them, still outplayed the Ravens in the last periods.

Fumbles Expensive

Fumbles cost the Maroon and White ball toters the victory, for, though only two of their four fumbles were recovered by the Mullinsmen, both were at critical moments. The Ravens' first score was made as a result of Williams' fumble on his own 21, and Mermis, Benedictine guard recovered. From here Neff and O'Neal, backfield flashes, followed superb interference to score in 5 plays.

For their other tally, the Ravens got possession of the ball on their 45 by virtue of an ineligible Buff touching one of Holston's passes. Then Deutch, hefty Raven end, snagged one of Dunaway's passes and galloped 41 yards to the 14. McCann caught Dunaway's pass for the score after a line attack had failed.

Score Early

The Buffs made their score early in the fourth period after Neff, Raven punter had been backed nearly to his goal line by two penalties. He punted out to the 20. Cow Williams showed the old good stuff here and took the ball on a ploughing expedition, taking the ball to the 4 yard line, at the end of the third period. After the Raven line had tightened so as to prevent a line attack, Williams tossed to Morgan for the score. McInnis converted with a place kick.

Then the Buffs really opened up, the line holding the Ravens and forcing them to punt, but a fumble and the only intercepted pass of the game halted the Buffs' attempted drive for the winning score they needed.

Play Snappy Game

Lovelace and Hamel, guards, played a snappy hard tackling defensive game. Hamel seemed to be the only man who could mess up the Raven plays in the backfield, although he was just a substitute. Williams played a good all around game, while Duncan and Spence did good work in line backing on the defense and in line plunging.

"Big John" Walker proved his mettle both as a defensive tackle and as an offensive punter. The Buffs had none of the punting weakness which was dominant in the beginning of the season. The Buffs punted 6 times for an average of 38 yards, a 5-yard better average than the Ravens'. Four of those punts were Walker's. His average on the four was 40 yards.

Dunnaway is Stellar Man

Dunaway, former Amarillo Sandie star, was the stellar man for St. Benedict's, though Neff and Helmert showed up well. Dunaway's passing and end skirting gave the Ravens a good amount of their yards gained.

The starting line-up:

Lovelace	lg	Mermis

In Christ Role

When the next presentation of the world-famed Passion Play takes place in Oberammergau, Bavaria, next spring, Alois Lang, above, will play the part of Christ. The plays have been conducted at ten-year intervals since 1633, when, as a pledge for their deliverance from the black plague, natives of the small Bavarian village dedicated their lives and those of their children to these regular portrayals of the passion and death of Christ.

Among Others, Devens of Yanks, Birkofer of Pirates and Pearson of Indians Made Sparkling Debuts in 1933 Season

BY PHILIP MARTIN

NOW that the annual lull in sports news is here—the baseball season is over, and it's too early to talk about football stars—we'll reminisce a bit and contemplate the outstanding stars the 1933 baseball year unearthed.

Among the pitching sensations in the majors who have made their marks the first year up are Monte Pearson of the Indians, Charley Devens of the Yanks, and Ralph Birkofer of the Pirates.

Pearson is a rookie right-hander who is destined to stir up Cleveland baseball in much the same manner as Wes Ferrell and Oral Hildebrand did. The kid only last year was a wild, green hand pitching for Toledo. There Steve O'Neill, former Cleveland catcher, took hold of him, taught him control, and Pearson went up at the fag-end of the season and pitched a four-hitter against the Senators.

Devens is the much-heralded youth from Harvard whom the Yanks brought up from Newark. He has a slow ball that broke the backs of many a big leaguer, and that slow ball has a break to it that is tough to hit. Next year Charley should be part of the young-blood nucleus McCarthy will use in rebuilding his team.

The Pittsburgh rookie, Birkofer, didn't have much chance to show his wares until the wind-up of the season, when the Pirates brought him down from Toronto. His first two starts were wins, and then the Bucs hit a late season slump which offset any pitching the big boy could do. With a fresh start at the beginning of next season, he should click.

• • •

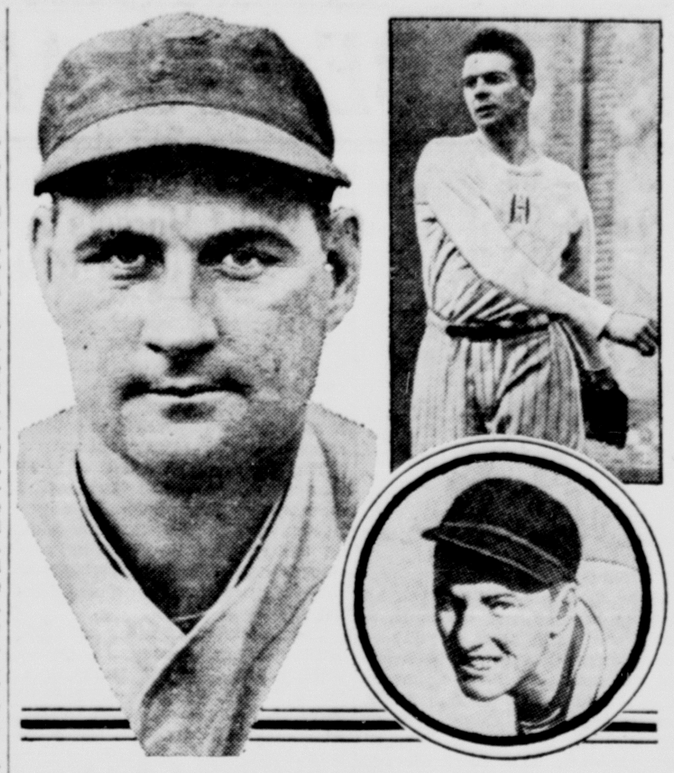
A COUPLE of other boys who'll find the gang with them next year will be Infielders Blondy Ryan of the Giants and Bob Boken of the Senators. Ryan was the hotspot behind the Giants that prevented their slumping in the midst of the pennant drive. His chatter, rivaling that of little Joey Sewell, had the boys on the go all the time.

Boken, an unassuming youngster brought up from Chattanooga to fill in for the ailing Buddy Myer at second early in the season, gives promise of ousting Buddy next season.

• • •

SPEAKING of youngsters, golf grew a goodly crop of them this season. Johnny Goodman and George Dunlap, National Open and National Amateur winners, respectively, are the most promising of the lot. But Johnny Revolta, Michigan boy pro; Lawson Little and Jack Munger, amateurs, and Paul Runyan, another pro, are due for stardom before long.

Revolta surprised the talent in the south this year, while Runyan cleaned up in the winter pro circles and accompanied the U. S. Ryder Cup team across to England. Hagen, Sarazen, Wood, Dutra and the rest of the money players will be keeping a weather eye on these two fellows.



Ralph Birkofer, left, of the Pirates, Charley Devens, upper right, of the Yanks and Monte Pearson, below, of the Indians, stand out from the other rookies who made their debuts this year.

C.C.C. CAMP NEWS

(By Nugent L. Lowrey)
Company 1828

It is but natural for those on the outside to be interested in knowing what goes on inside the C. C. C. Camp. Although one can become familiar with some of the activity by visiting at the camp and asking questions of the Veterans, yet there is much of interest and importance that does not come under ready observance. There is a great deal more to the schedule of performance than just building a scenic road through the Palo Duro Canyon, even though the primary purpose is toward work of making a State Park within the picturesque wonders of the beautiful cliffs and hills.

Of vital concern is the proper camp living conditions for the men enrolled in the C. C. C. service are far from home and families. To comply with those requirements, expenditures from General Headquarters allow for a certain amount of newspaper subscriptions, magazine subscriptions, and a limited amount of athletic and music equipment. Then, too, there is a "Traveling Library" for the enjoyment of those who like to read. Boxes of books of both fiction and history are consigned to each Company for a period of a few weeks, and then as these boxes are forwarded on to some other camp, other books are received, so that a good variety of reading is kept for distribution among the men. It is remarkable how a large percent of the men avail themselves of the opportunity of reading these books. It is gratifying that thoughtful citizens of this community have contributed an excellent collection of magazines which have been valuable toward the reading pleasure of the Veterans.

As to the comfort feature referred to, plenty of warm clothing has just been issued, along with plenty of bedding and cover. It is unfortunate that the barracks were begun so late, for the tents do not give that necessary warmth. The wooden living quarters are going up fast, and soon comfort will be had. However, very little sickness has resulted from the cold of the past few days. The health of the men is always of paramount consideration.

The importance of keeping the health up to the best and of guarding against injury comes in an order from Robert Fechner, Director of Emergency Conservation Work, decreeing that these two features must be observed seriously. It is noteworthy that the Veterans Camp at Palo Duro rates high in these two respects to date.

As a further necessity in the morale of the camp is the proper mixture of entertainments along with daily work. Up to date, each Company has been arranging for programs of recreation, the scene of performance being in the mess hall. Through the influence and thoughtfulness of Major J. A. Watson, Commanding Officer of the Camp, the building program includes a central hall for entertainments, and a man will be appointed to arrange the amusements for the entire camp. The building should be ready in about ten days or two weeks.

As a courtesy of unusual value, was a musical program given last Saturday evenig in Company 1828 Recreation Hall by Miss Rosalie Raymond who is dancing instructor of the Amarillo College of Music. She was assisted by Mrs. Marguerite Cleghorn and Harold Ensinger, along with other talented musicians. Miss Raymond delighted the enthusiastic audience with charming dance numbers in which she displayed beautiful costumes; Mrs. Cleghorn entertained with reading and she and Mr. Ensinger together presented an amusing playlet. Little Peggy Cleghorn and Betty Rapp fascinated with clever dancing and readings. Mrs. Vivian Morris Doherty, Miss Caroline Pestor, and Miss Helen Strite added to the value of the program with instrumental numbers, with Miss Mary Miner giving a touch of burlesque acting. The entire entainment group deserves special mention for making the trip from Amarillo to the camp in very disagreeable weather, and for changing an aspect of weather gloom into an evening of cheerfulness.

If some men owned the earth they would try to dodge the tax collector.

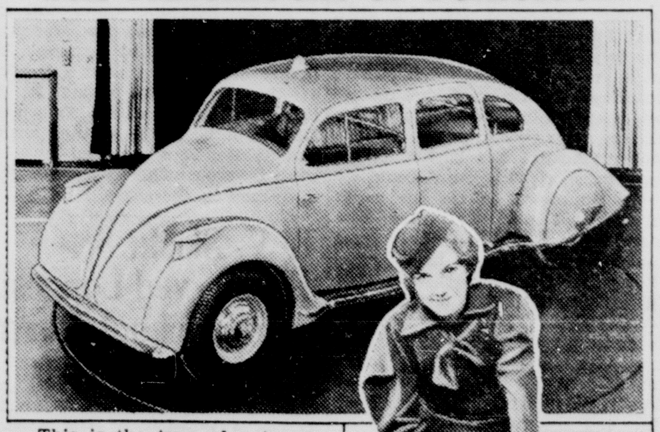
The Automobile of Tomorrow



This is the type of automobile which will be skimming through the nation's thoroughfares in the near future, believes a prominent Detroit automobile body manufacturer. The extremely novel design of this ultra-streamlined "dream car" is attracting much attention in Detroit, where it is being shown. Miss Leola Harms is shown at right demonstrating one of the car's features, the ease with which the jacket may be removed from the rear fender. This car portrays the manufacturers' conception of the car of the future; it does not represent a model for production by any manufacturer.

THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 8 | CANYON, TEXAS NOVEMBER 9, 1933 | NUMBER 9

HOME COMING IS TO BE BIG AFFAIR ALL DAY FRIDAY

ANCIENT RIVALS WILL MEET FOR CONFERENCE GAME HERE FRIDAY AT BUFFALO PARK

Friday afternoon at Buffalo Park two of the Panhandle's oldest grid rivals will meet in battle such as has never before been witnessed. These rivals are the teams of the Hereford and Canyon High Schools.

In the football history of these two schools Hereford has only won three games, their victories being in 1928-29-31. Last season the Eagles downed them in two games by scores of 13-7 and 13-0. This game should be one of the fastest games ever played between these two schools, as Hereford is trying hard to get revenge on the Eagles for last year's score.

Coach Jones' Eagles are training hard this week to be in the best of condition for the battle that means so much to them, to their school, and to the city of Canyon.

Students! Remember to pay your dimes and back the Eagles while they fight so faithfully for you.

Citizens of Canyon! Save your nickels and come to see a real football game. When? Friday afternoon, Nov. 10, at 3:00 o'clock. Where? At Buffalo Park.

Eagles' Coach

CLEVELAND JONES

Coach Cleveland Jones, head coach of the Eagles, was formerly a star on the Eagles team. He was one of the smallest men ever to letter on the team as well as one of the most aggressive quarterbacks.

Prominent Canyon Men Have Served as School Trustees

Canyon High School has been especially favored with men of outstanding ability, who have filled the offices of trustee since the institution was established.

Among these very prominent trustees who have served this school faithfully in the past and a few of whom are still serving are: Messrs. G. G. Foster, John A. Guthrie, Clyde W. Warwick, A. N. Burgan, John Fry, R. P. Jarrett, T. V. Slack, E. Burroughs, R. E. Ball, A. W. Sternenberg, and Dr. Albert Barnett, who is now teaching in Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

"These men," states Mr. I. B. Carruth, superintendent of Canyon Public Schools, "have proved themselves to be citizens of the highest type by giving of their time and interest to make it possible for the boys and girls of Canyon to have equal educational opportunities with others in the state. These men have fulfilled the greatest obligation of citizenship in a democracy by placing education first in our community."

Football Boys Entertained By Tulia High School

Friday afternoon after the game, Tulia entertained the football boys. The boys were taken to the Home Economics room and introduced to all the football players and pep squad girls. They were served sandwiches, pecans, cookies, and lemonade by the Home Economics girls.

Senior Pictures Hang in Various Places in Hall

In 1928, the Seniors established a custom that has ever since been followed in C. H. S. until it has become a tradition. This custom is to mount each senior's picture, together with pictures of the other seniors, in a large frame and hang the group picture in some appropriate place in the hall.

The 1928 Senior pictures hang north of the principal's office on main floor, the 1930 group hangs directly across the hall from the first group. The 1929 group of seniors hung their pictures over the trophy case, which they left to the school, and the 1931 seniors' pictures hang over the bulletin board. South of the superintendent's office, the seniors of 1932 hung their pictures, and last but not least, the 1933 seniors hung their pictures directly south of the 1932 group.

There are 186 pictures of former seniors hanging in the hall. In 1928, forty seniors' pictures were hung up; in 1929, 42 pictures were put in the hall. The senior class of 1930 had the largest number of pictures—a total of 58. In 1931 there were 42 pictures hung up, and in 1932 there were 44 pictures hung in the hall. The seniors of 1933 hung 42 pictures.

Often you can see a group of students standing before these pictures of seniors and comparing the appearance of the seniors of the past with that of the present day seniors, and seeming to take from the host of faces gone before new courage and strength to carry on in the face of whatever trials may come.

SKETCH OF EAGLE PLACED IN HALL BY JONES

Coach Cleveland Jones, has sketched a large picture of an Eagle and placed it above the bulletin board. Around it is purple paper with "Eagles" at the top, and "Beat Hereford" at the bottom.

Cactus Cal

Welcome Exes:

We're shore glad to hev you all back up here at dere ole C. H. S. How's the world treatin' yuh? I guess you're all rich old bachelors and old maids by now, or maybe sum uf you is old enough to be married. Yeah! I know sum uv 'em are, cuz one couple lives rit here in town. Old Terry Mayben and Margaret Griffin. And Bus Henson, you remember him, he was thet good yell leader; well he and that cute little Neal gal is married. Oh yes, and you remember that football playin' Tommie Elliston (Scoop's brother). He and Esther Downing is married too. Now I've got to draw a line here, cuz if I started naming all the ex-students thet's married I'd take up almost a whole Eagle's Tale page.

Even if you kids did hev to stay in after four fer geometry or English, or mebbe history, and even if you did get awful whippin's fer playin' hooky, I'll bet you can think uv more good times in high school than you can think uv bad times. After all's said and done, I wouldn't take a million dollars fer my days in high school. Would you?

Tother day I wuz a lookin' at some desks up here in study hall. I just read all the carvings and knew all about sum uv them puppy-love affairs. I seen carved on one desk "Red Covington and D. F. R." I just couldn't imagin who them initials wuz until I seen him with a Rusk gal, not long ago. Then I seen "Terrill Christian loves Frances Collins." These two initials wuz carved insite a heart and fixed up real purty. I'll bet Frances is glad to hear thet, cuz she's his wife now. She shore musta had that school girl complexion to keep as big a football star as Terrill wuz all this time.

I wuz behind the scenery on the high school stage and I seen old Cow Williams' name up there with some gal's name. I think the dame's name wuz Willie Brooks. You all know ole Cow, the captain of them Buffaloes down at W. T., well he used to play football up here to high school, and wuz some what of a player then. Rit close to their name on the scenery wuz "Buster Brown, Ayleen Simmons." Speaking of Buster Brown, jest reminds me uv that year he did so good down at Austin, when thet Eagle basketball bunch went down there to play ball. I read in one of them papers that Buster Brown, Canyon's outstanding player wuz the talk of the tournament. And that Cleveland Jones, that coaches them Eagles that defeated them Tulia Hornets tuther day, well in that that same tournament down to Austin a man said that Coach Jones wuz the smoothest working forward who had yet played in the Interscholastic League. And that's some compliment, ain't it?

There's a lady up here that coaches basketball fer the girls, that I thought tuther day, that by the way she shoots goals, that she must uv played ball somewhere before. Sure 'nough I wuz readin' an annual and it said that "Ann Smith, a consistent player, an excellent shot at the basket, either long or short, 'Big Ann' could be depended on to deliver the goods in time of necessity. Her outstanding record of forty field goals and nine free throws in the Tri-State meet at Dalhart gave her unanimous choice of all-star forward."

Well folks, they're makin' me quit, cuz I'm takin' up the whole newspaper. So long. And come to the big homecoming game Friday and see the Eagles play the Hereford Whitefaces.

Rope those White Faces.

Eagles Defeat Tulia Hornets at Tulia 7 to 0

Playing on a muddy field at Tulia the Canyon Eagles defeated the Tulia Hornets 7 to 0 in a fast conference tilt last Friday.

In spite of the muddy field, the Eagles showed marked improvement on their offensive play.

The Eagles received Tulia's kick-off on the 20 yard stripe and marched steadily up the field until a fumble by Wilson, Eagle back, on the enemies 10 yard line prevented the Eagles from scoring, and similar misfortunes continued thru out the game.

The Eagles' counter did not come until late in the fourth period when S. Cox, shifty Eagle back, ran 4 yards on a wide end play to carry the ball over. Wilson plunged through the line for the extra point.

S. Cox and T. V. Slack held the spotlight on the offense, while the entire squad showed marked aggressiveness on the defense.

Summary of game:

Yards gained from scrimmage: Eagles 239, Hornets 98.

Yards lost from scrimmage: Eagles 7, Hornets 11.

There will be a pep rally Thursday night, Nov. 9th, honoring the game which is to be played between the Canyon Eagles and the Hereford White Faces, Nov. 10th. All the pep squad, band, football members, students of Canyon High, and the fire boys will be there. The parade will start at 7:30 from the Presbyterian church. The fire truck will head the parade with the football boys following in a truck; next will be the Canyon High School band, also riding in a truck; following them will be the pep squad and the students. The parade will go around the square and end up with a bonfire at the vacant lot behind R. E. Foster's Filling Station. Yells and songs will be given by the Purple and White Peps, assisted by the band to arouse the interest of the townsmen in the game.

T. V. Slack, Sr. Has Served Longest on School Board

Ten years ago, the people of Randall county elected T. V. Slack, Sr., as a member of the School Board; for ten consecutive years following his election, he has served as a member of the Board, having served longer than any other member of the present Board. Mr. Slack has stood for better public education in every field; he was on the Board when the two modern school buildings were built. Four of his children have graduated from C. H. S., and he has four in school now, and one is attending W. T. S. T. C. Because of his ability, loyalty, and dependability, the people have kept electing him as a member of the School Board.

Hampton and Leslie Lisle spent Sunday in Hereford.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Clyde W. Warwick, the publisher of the Canyon News, the different machines were explained and their uses were illustrated. Many valuable observations were made by the students.

Improvements Made In and Around C. H. S. Building

Several improvements have been made in and around the High School building since it was built in 1923. The football posts at the back of the building have been put up; elm trees have been planted around the building; and blue grass planted in front of it. Rose bushes, ivy vines, and a hedge of bridal wreath have been set out in front of the building, while inside the building pictures of six senior classes have been placed in the main hall. Cups, pennants, and a picture of the football boys have been put in a trophy case, while the Home Economics laboratory has added to the school in the Home Economics department as well as many advantages in the responsibility in serving dinners and banquets for the High School.

After business was carried on in patrol meetings in the former troop, Robbie Foster was elected president, and Mary Ella Davis vice president of the entire troop. The plan to sell Christmas cards was adopted to make money for the troop.

Two new songs were taught, and the troop adjourned after singing "Taps."

The Thistle Troop planned a hike for Wednesday afternoon, but because of rain, plans were changed, and the troop had a party at the home of Mrs. M. R. Word. An enjoyable afternoon of games followed the meeting. Later in the afternoon refreshments of "somemores" and cocoa, which were made by some of the Girl Scouts, were served.

ARMISTICE DAY

This Market will be closed all day Saturday in observation of Armistice Day. Do your buying Friday.

We always offer a good selection of meats at fair prices. Make it a habit to come here first, and you will always be pleased.

Boost the Eagles at the big Canyon-Hereford game Friday.

THE CITY MARKET

You Can See a Water Leak!
You Can Smell a Gas Leak! But—

HOW ABOUT YOUR ELECTRIC LEAK?

Electricity is cheap, but even so, we are eager that you receive full service from every bit of electricity used. Electricity-using hours are now longer and small leaks that you've neglected this summer will show up more on your winter electric bills. Dusty and blackened light bulbs waste electricity. So do many "off-brand" light bulbs which are appearing on the market today. They may look like standard brands . . . but they waste electricity without your knowing it. Buy standard American-made lamps. They cost slightly more but give you full benefit of electric current consumed and really save money. Your lamp dealer will be happy to assist you in selecting proper American-made lamps. Don't waste electricity, (even though it is one of the smallest items in your family budget.)

"Purple Peps" Organized In September 1926

The Purple Peps was organized September 26, 1926 with Lenna Foster, president, Helen Woods, pep leader and Miss Jewell Brockett, now Mrs. Ray McReynolds, as sponsor.

These same officers held these positions until 1928-29, when Danny Mack Stewart was elected to assist Helen Woods. Miss Stella Rusk then became sponsor.

The pep squad suits up until 1928 consisted of black skirts and purple sweaters with large "C" situated on the front. That year the uniforms were changed to white flannel dresses with capes on which the word "Eagles" was placed in purple letters.

In 1929-30, Ruth Greenfield was president and Elizabeth Jameson, Lucille Davault, and Bettye Sternenberg were pep leaders.

In 1930-31, Katye Lowe was president and Celestine McGee, Rosa Cash and Maxine Middleton were pep leaders, with Miss Murrell as sponsor. That year, the suits were changed to white flannel skirts and purple sweaters with the word "Purple Peps" in white letters on the front of the sweaters.

In 1932-33, Marjorie Tankersley was president and Mable Schmitz and Eulalie Moore were pep leaders with Mrs. Lee Foster as sponsor. Last year, the squad adopted purple flannel skirts and purple sweaters with "C. H. S." in purple and white lettering.

This year, Armor Lee Greenfield is president and Mable Schmitz and Wilma Price are leaders. A squad of 'White Peps" was organized this year in the Freshman class, their suits consist of white Indian Head skirts and white turtle-neck sweaters. Their president is Jean Slack, and their pep leaders are Mary Collins and Evelyn Cluck. They co-operate with the "Purple Peps" at all games and help to form all pep squad stunts.

Buttercups?

These may look like real flowers, but they're only imitations. And, not only that, they're made of butter. This was one of the more novel exhibits at a recent British dairy show.

WELCOME EX-STUDENTS

To the students who have found it possible to come back to Canyon and the high school for their annual day to meet their old friends and classmates, the present students extend a cordial welcome.

This day for the ex-students may be a day both pleased and sad: pleasant because of the old friendships that have been renewed and because of new friendships that have been made; sad because thoughts and memories of friends who are not present will cross the minds of those who are here.

But for all who come, the students here, who will soon be ex-students with them, wish to make this home coming as happy a one as possible.

Canyon High School Students Have Won Many Trophies

The students of Canyon High School of the past years have won many trophies.

The boys basketball team of 1926 were the winners of the cup of the University Interscholastic League. The same group the following two years were also the champions, for which they received another large loving cup. For the best all-round athlete, there is a trophy in the form of a small football player upon a stand on which is engraved the various names for the different years: Warren Whaley, Broughton Hardin, Wilford Taylor, and F. A. Thomas. The Canyon Motor Company gave a loving cup to the winner of the Junior Boys' Relay. A cup was given by Thompson Hardware Company to the winner of the Junior Boys' Declamation in High School. Rosa Cash in 1933 won the cup in Senior Girls' Declamation of the Panhandle Speech Department; Quannah took the cup in 1930 and Amarillo in 1931. Canyon received the cup for the Senior Girls' Declamation in the Interscholastic League in 1933. A small loving cup has been given to the winner of the Loyalty Campaign for the past two years, the Seniors in 1933, and all the High School this year. Marye Ella Lowe brought to Canyon in 1933 the cup of the winner of the Panhandle Extemporaneous Speech Tournament. The Freshmen of 1933 were given a purple and white pennant for selling the most outside activity tickets. In 1933 a small basketball trophy was given to the winners of the basketball intramural contest which was won by the seventh grade boys and the sophomore girls. Ogden Stroud and Joe Collins, seniors of 1933, received the cup for being the winners of the Lubbock Debate Tournament. The Seniors of 1933 were the winners of the intramural track trophy which was a small mounted track man.

Exe's Association Started With Banquet in 1930

The Ex-Student Association of Canyon High School has been steadily growing since the year 1930 when it first met. The meeting was held in the Methodist Church with approximately 60 present; no president had been previously elected, but so favorable was the impression made on the members present that Ben Guill was elected as president of the association for 1931.

The ex-students met in 1931 in the Christian Church with 85 present, a growth of nearly fifty per cent over the preceding year, and Delbert Lowes was elected president for the following year. The number present was nearly 100. The president elected for 1933 was Lee Foster, and a noticeable and substantial gain in interest, as well as membership was reported.

This year the number expected and hoped for is 125. The tickets for the banquet may be purchased from Delbert Lowes, Miss Olive Schramm, or by calling number 23, the high school office.

Interest has been steadily growing since the Association was first organized. Each year the number of ex-students has increased. It is an organization of which the high school can truly be proud, not only because of its good spirit but because of the prestige which it adds to the institution.

Assistant Coach Sanders is C. H. S. Ex-Student

Milton Sanders, assistant coach of the Eagles, is remembered as one of the most dependable linemen ever to wear the purple and white. He played as well in the backfield as the line. He was one of the very few to letter four years in football.

Coach Sanders' ability was not limited to football. He was captain of the basketball squad in 1925 and was one of the best guards in the district.

Educational Week Is Observed In Assembly

As this is National Education Week, the assembly program for Thursday, Nov. 2, dealt with educational topics. A very interesting program was given on values of public education in the United States.

After singing the "Star Spangled Banner," the students listened to a short talk by Dora Mae Plaster. "Why the State Furnishes Education for Every Boy and Girl of High School Age." Dora Mae summed up her talk in the quotation: "I plan to be a person physically strong, intellectually trained, and morally sound, maintaining right relationships with my family and my community and seeking worthwhile work and play." Jack Oldham, the next speaker, in his talk on "The High Quality of Work in this School," brought out the many opportunities that C. H. S. students have for advancement in the educational field. For example, there is the hour period for remedial work, clubs, etc., at the close of the regular school day, an improvement, which few schools have, over the regular system. Mr. Carruth told of the many opportunities which the youth of today has. Youth likes freedom and adventure; the modern school tries to give all the freedom possible, and to co-operate with the student in the fulfillment of his or her ambitions.

Many Gifts Donated By Senior Classes

It has been the custom for a number of years for the departing senior class to leave something to the school. From 1923 to 1928, the classes gave the school year books.

In 1928 the class donated the trophy case now seen in the main hall. The next year the class of 1930, gave the purple curtain for the stage in the auditorium. In 1931, the class gave "In Retrospect," a year book. In 1932, the senior class left to the school a large radio for the music department. Last year the senior class gave the window curtains in the auditorium.

Ex-Students To Give Chapel Program Friday

The ex-students of Canyon High School will have charge of the assembly program for Friday, Nov. 10th. Bob Black, "Cow" Williams, and Delbert Lowes will give short talks, and a quartette consisting of Ruth Baker, J. C. Baker, Trannie Mae Russell, and J. H. Wright will furnish a musical number. A tap dance by Bettye Sternenberg and Melva Gamewell, and a piano solo by Dorothy Faye Rusk, all ex-students, will also be given.

"BEAT HEREFORD" TAGS FOR SALE BY JUNIORS

Members of the Junior class, under their sponsor, Miss Clark, are selling "Beat Hereford" tags this week. The price for each tag is five cents. The money will go to finance the various activities in which the class will participate during the coming year.

Split-Semester Is Used Only In W. T. of Texas Colleges

The West Texas State Teachers College has added a notable chapter to its history as a service institution by the Split Semester plan, devised this year to meet the needs of a depression and drouth ridden West Texas.

With the first nine weeks under the new plan about to close, and with new students planning to arrive on the campus for the opening of the second nine weeks period on November 20, Dr. J. A. Hill and members of his faculty have been carefully analyzing the workings of the plan.

The plan was called "radical" by many, so different was it from anything else in Texas. Dr. Hill replied to his critics "We have never had conditions like those of the present. It is the business of an educational institution to adapt itself so as to serve the youth of the land. That's why we have tried a new plan."

Under the split semester plan those students who can find only enough money for nine weeks of college study, come to Canyon, and enroll for three subjects. Their classes meet six days of every week, and in preparation of their work takes approximately six hours of every day. When the nine weeks is over, the student, through his intensive effort, has covered the same amount of work in the three subjects as if he had been continuously in college for eighteen weeks.

If his money is gone, he withdraws, without any loss of credit, and earns more money with which to return at a later time. Many students of the first nine weeks are teachers whose schools began in August and closed in late September for a long seige of cotton picking. To these teachers the split-semester plan gave an opportunity for profitable fall work instead of a long gperiod of heartbreaking idleness.

A Boon to Parents

Students are not the only ones who have profited in 1933 by Canyon's split semester plan. Parents with boys or girls of college age were getting gray hairs trying to find money enough to help their children to go to college. The Canyon plan made it necessary to raise only $16.50 for tuition, hospital service, lyceums, athletics, the college paper, laboratory fees and all the other charges expected in college attendance, instead of the $33.00 minimum which they had expected.

As one parent wrote to the college, "This plan is a Godsend. If the College will work with us this way, we can take heart to try to do for our boys and girls." So the small cream and egg and butter checks, the loads of feed, the few hogs, and the low salaries of parents are made enough to stretch over educational opportunity as well as daily necessities in the home.

The administrators of Canyon College feel sure that the plan has enabled at least 250 students to attend this fall who could not have come on the old plan, with the increased fees at all state institutions.

President J. A. Hill was criticised when the plan was first proposed. At this date three other colleges of the state have already announced that they will adopt the same practice.

When interviewed today about the plan President Hill said, "I do not consider the Split Semester plan ideal. It is an emergency measure, and is probably one which will not be continued when conditions are better. In the meantime it is a highly serviceable device, and we are glad we thought of it." So are hundreds of parents and students from the sixty-nine counties of Texas gathered on the campus of the Canyon College.

Barracks

the week end caused much discomfort among the men at the camp, but with the rapid progress on the barracks they realized that comfortable quarters were being provided as rapidly as possible. Good humor prevailed in spite of the trying situation.

Armistice

Members of the Palo Duro Post met Friday night, making plans for Armistice Day. An increased membership in the local Post is the result of a campaign which has been conducted for members and the ex-service men are entering into the program for the new with renewed enthusiasm.

All business houses are urged to have out their flags and other decoration early Saturday morning in honor of Armistice Day.

President J. A. Hill and Professor T. M. Moore returned Tuesday from a brief trip to Stamford in the interests of the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitt Bullard and children of Shamrock spent the week-end in the home of Mrs. J. T. Burnett.

Fines Collected on Highway Overloading; Drunks

Ten cases were filed in justice and county court this week dealing with truck regulation and drunkenness. Five cases are pending against C. M. Jeffries of Pampa, who owns a string of trucks which were stopped by highway patrolmen.

R. A. Bryles paid a fine for driving an over loaded truck.

J. D. Toles, Durane Merriweather and O. G. Steen were arrested for intoxication.

Red Cross

25 cents each have a value of $378.00.

"A comparison of these figures show that while we paid into the National Headquarters of the Red Cross a little more than $100 during the past year," stated N. E McIntire, Red Cross Chairman, "we have received in value over $900.00. This is a ratio of 9 to 1."

"While the assistance from the National organization has been more or less in a quiet manner, such aid received by this county indicates a need for aid from the Red Cross in the county. Such help should be an incentive for a very liberal response on the part of Randall County citizens in the forth coming Roll Call," said W. A. Warren, chairman of the Roll Call committee.

One hundred and seven families in this county received benefits from cloth and clothing of the Red Cross, according to Mrs. Thompson. All of the goods received were of first class quality and were received in good condition. "Had we not received this from the Red Cross, I do not know what would have been done in this county in caring for the suffering and needy," Mrs. Thompson declared. "We should respond very liberally in this year's Roll Call. Without the Red Cross help we could not have pulled through unless we had raised the money locally."

COST OF HANDLING MILK COMES HIGH

E. Gidden has the figures to show what it costs to handle milk in the manner to meet the standard milk ordinance requirements. He sells milk on the Amarillo route.

During the past year he has bought 35,300 pounds of ice, which cost him $88.75 delivered at his farm.

He is milking on an average 28 cows and is getting 50 gallons per day. He stated that the handling charges are so high that the profit is taken from the low priced milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradford left last week for Mineral Wells where they will remain for some time.

Nation's Debtors Look With Hope to New U. S. Policy of Managed Currency

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S decision that the United States government shall manage its own dollar, to restore pre-depression commodity prices, has brought new hope to farmer and debtor classes of the nation

And the announcement has arrived at an appropriate time Farm purchasing power had fallen well below industrial prices, and unrest had begun to rear its ugly head in the harder-hit farming sections.

In manipulating the dollar through the purchase and sale of gold, Uncle Sam is in a sense emulating the recent tactics of Johnny Bull With its "equalization fund," Great Britain in the last two years has been selling pounds abroad when they threatened to rise so high as to hamper British export trade or to depress domestic prices, and buying them when the situation was reversed

Under the new monetary policy, the American government will buy gold mined in this country at prices to be determined by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, prices that are 50 to 60 per cent above the traditional figure of $20.67 an ounce. At the same time, the government will sell dollars in foreign money markets

• • •

WHETHER this "management of the dollar" will succeed in its immediate objective of raising domestic prices is debatable Here, however is the theory behind the program.

When, months ago, President Roosevelt issued orders forbidding gold hoarding, placing an embargo on gold exports and abrogating the gold clause in public and private contracts, the United States was, by these steps, edged off the gold standard

There being no gauge left at home by which to assess its value, the value of the dollar during the immediate future was at the mercy of foreign nations still on the gold basis

It became the prey of speculation, and its value has, in the months since, fluctuated sharply

By paying more dollars than the legal figure of $20.67 an ounce for gold mined in this country the government is in effect creating a cheaper dollar. That is, it will take more dollars to buy an ounce of gold than formerly was the case. With this decrease of the dollar's value in terms of gold, it correspondingly will take more dollars to buy any given commodity than were previously necessary

And thus commodity prices theoretically at least should increase The same principle applies to purchase or sale of gold on foreign markets

• • •

BY these methods, President Roosevelt hopes to restore the commodity price level which existed in 1926 This particular year was chosen for several reasons.

First, it represented the middle point between the peak prices of the World War and the bottom prices of the depression. Likewise, it represented the rough average of a period of comparative stability And then, too economic advisers of the president claim that the 1926 price level was the one that prevailed when the burdens of "present public and private debts were contracted."

In other words, when that level has been reached the dollar once more will be as cheap as it was when farmers and other American debtors incurred their tremendous debt burdens And, by this token, the debtor class will be able to get out from under its obligations at a minimum of loss.

Whether a "managed currency" will bring back the commodity prices of seven years ago remains to be seen. But, even if it fails, President Roosevelt has not reached the end of his resources.

And he is determined, in some way or another to "up" commodity prices. "Do it we will," he has promised.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is shown above at his desk just after he had addressed the nation recently pledging a managed currency Inset is a chart showing the course commodity prices have taken since the turn of the century

Classified rates are two cents per word for the first insertion, and one cent per word for each subsequent insertion. This rate applies to all legal notices.

All classified advertisements must be paid in advance unless arrangements are made in person to care for the payment of them. Classified ads received through the mail will not be published unless accompanied by the cost of insertion.

Word ads intelligently—do not try to save a few cents by leaving out necessary words; tell who, what, where, and, if essential, when and why.

Scholarship Group of W. T. Holds Its Regular Fall Feed

Ten students from Canyon recently attended the fall banquet and formal initiation of the Lloyd Green Allen Scholarship Society on the campus of W. T. To attain the distinction of membership in this organization, it is necessary for the student to place among the upper ten per cent of the student body in scholastic rating.

Senior membership at present includes Bob Rowan, Dorothy Fae Rusk, Melva Gamewell, Hettie Lou Bagley, and Dorothy Gore. Those elected to junior membership are Emil Brewer, Frances Holman, George Bishop, Pollyanna Pitts, and Hosea Foster.

A number of these people are holding offices in the society: Bob Rowan, president; Dorothy Fae Rusk, treasurer; Dorothy Gore, Prairie reporter, and George Bishop, Annual reporter.

It is expected that there will be a number of new applications for membership to the Llyod Green Allen Scholarship Society following the opening of the second split semester on November 20.
